A safe space for queer people

The Queer Night Harbor (Nachthafen) is a protected, non-violent and discrimination-sensitive place for the night. Here, queer people can come to rest, free from hostility and recover their strength.

Who can come?
Anyone who self-identifies as queer. We accept people with addiction, but substance use on site is not allowed. A non-violent, queer- and discrimination-sensitive code of conduct applies and also decides who can stay. Barrier-free access.

Our services

- Come and go all night long
- Space for up to 30 guests (no sleeping places)
- Separate quiet room with 6 reclining chairs for short rests, in time slots when busy
- Small snacks and hot drinks at all times
